Anyway, you will be pleased to hear the course is going really well. I like the teachers very much, and we also have classes for British culture — they're really interesting. I am practising pronunciation in the language lab and watching videos a lot too. I have met lots of really nice people on the course and we all get on well together. We go out to films and restaurants together, and we organize trips to the country now and then. Last weekend we went to Wales, which was great. Next month we are going to Cornwall. I'd better go now as I want to catch the post. Lots of love, Andrea
