What is Voice in Grammar?

Learning objective: apply the correct tense-conversion rules while changing voice

Voice refers to the form of a verb that shows whether the subject PERFORMS the action or RECEIVES it. English has two voices — Active Voice and Passive Voice.

Riddima loves singing

verb

ACTIVE VOICE

The subject DOES the action.

The dog chased the ball.

PASSIVE VOICE

The subject RECEIVES the action.

The ball was chased by the dog.

Only TRANSITIVE verbs (verbs with a direct object) can be changed from active to passive. An intransitive verb (sleep, arrive, go) has no object to promote into a subject.

Active Voice

The subject is the doer — direct, clear and to the point

Riddhima loves singing

STRUCTURE: Subject + Verb + Object (optional)

- In active sentences, the subject performs the action.
- Active voice generally makes writing clearer and more direct.
- We use the active voice to say what the subject DOES.
- The subject always comes BEFORE the verb.

Examples

"The chef cooked the meal." (Chef = subject, performing the action of cooking)

"She writes a letter." (Subject = She; Verb = writes; Object = a letter)

Passive Voice

The subject receives the action — useful when the doer is unknown or unimportant

Anna is using

$$A.V = S + V + O$$

The phone is being used

STRUCTURE: Object (becomes subject) + "be" + V3 (past participle) + by + original subject (optional)

- In passive voice, the subject receives the action — it does not perform it.
- The doer of the action comes AFTER the verb, usually introduced by "by".
- Useful when the action matters more than the actor, or the actor is unknown.
- Can be used to emphasize the action or the recipient of the action.

Examples

"The meal was cooked by the chef." (Meal = subject, receiving the action of cooking)

"A letter is written by her." (Subject = A letter; Verb = is written; Agent = by her)

Active Voice vs Passive Voice

Key differences to remember

Active Voice	Passive Voice
Denotes that the subject is PERFORMING the action.	Denotes that the subject is ACTED UPON by the verb.
Does not require a linking verb to make sense.	Uses a linking (" be ") verb + past participle of the main verb.
Focuses on the DOER of the action.	Comes in handy when the doer of the action is unknown or unimportant.
Has a direct , clear and strong tone.	Has a more indirect , softer and subtler tone.
Example: I decorated the hall.	Example: The hall was decorated by me.

The Five Golden Rules

Follow these steps in order, every single time

Object becomes the Subject

Choose the correct form of the verb 'be'

Use the Past Participle Form (V3) of the verb

Add 'by'

Subject becomes the Object

FORMULA: Object + verb 'be' + V3 + by + Subject

She helps him. → He is helped by her.

Special Cases — Two Objects & Phrasal Verbs

Not every sentence follows the plain formula

Intransitive verb + preposition acting as ONE transitive unit

All laughed at her. → She was laughed at by all.

He agreed to my proposal. → My proposal was agreed to by him.

"Everyone laughed at Rahul's joke" → passive keeps "laughed AT" together: "Rahul's joke was laughed at by everyone" — drop the "at" and the sentence falls apart!
